

SUKULU'S WILDLIFE CAPTURE EXPERIENCE

This 10 day Wildlife Capture Experience on Sukulu Reserve is a unique opportunity for veterinary students and veterinarians to get hands-on experience in wildlife veterinary work and being part of the white rhino immobilization team!

What?

An experience of a lifetime to work alongside wildlife veterinarians and conservationists in wildlife veterinary work and conservation projects. During this 10 day experience participants will gain technical knowledge and skills through theoretical lectures and hands-on field work in small groups of maximum 10 students.

The aim of the Sukulu's Wildlife Capture Experience is to expose you to the behind scenes of veterinary wildlife practices and conservation, to learn about the immobilization and capture techniques used in various wildlife species and to work with endangered species in anti-poaching procedures. Besides the technical learning aspects, this program also allows for some leisure activities and wildlife viewing too, making this a complete African experience!

Who?

Students from any veterinary faculty in the world, and any year of study, are welcome to attend. Veterinarians eager to learn more about wildlife veterinary work. This program is facilitated in English.
