SCHOLARSHIPS AND AWARDS

Scholarships and awards are presented to deserving students based upon academic achievements, financial need, area of interest, or other college-approved criteria recommended by donors. Many scholarships and awards are endowed, thus providing perpetual support and a lasting legacy from the donor.

Though the college's awards program dates back to 1935, substantial progress has been made in the past two decades. Indeed, the growth of scholarships and awards to veterinary students over recent years is among the college's most important fund-raising successes! This growth reflects the generosity of our donors and their desire to counter the rising educational debt facing new DVMs (now averaging over $121,000 per student).

For the 2011-2012 academic year, over $357,000 in endowed and annual named scholarships and awards will be made to students. Over 50 percent of eligible veterinary medical professional students will receive an endowed or annual scholarship with the average award in excess of $1,900.

The College of Veterinary Medicine Student Awards Committee selects Scholarship and Award recipients. The 2011-2012 committee members are Drs. Haynes (Chairperson), Bolser, Day, Leuschen, Griffith, Holtkamp, Myers, Noxon, Miles. The committee receives input from many other faculty and students during the process of selecting the recipients. I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the Student Awards Committee and the donors of the scholarships listed on the following pages.
