

IOWA STATE UNIVERSITY

College of Veterinary Medicine

Awards Nomination Form

The Stange Award for Meritorious Service in Veterinary Medicine is the premier recognition given to ISU veterinary alumni for outstanding professional achievements in education, government, industry, practice or other professional endeavors in veterinary medicine. Charles H. Stange, DVM, was dean of the ISU College of Veterinary Medicine from 1909-1936. Just as he made significant contributions to multiple facets of the profession, the award named in his memory recognizes individuals for outstanding professional achievements that advance the veterinary profession.

The William P. Switzer Award was created in 1998 to recognize individuals who have made outstanding contributions to society and to the ISU College of Veterinary Medicine. Nominees may be veterinarians or non-veterinarians, alumni or non-alumni. In addition to professional achievements, these individuals will also have had an association with the College that has made a positive impact for teaching, research or service. The Switzer Award was named in honor of an ISU researcher who made major contributions to our understanding of swine respiratory diseases. Dr. William P. Switzer served as a faculty member and administrator in the College of Veterinary medicine from 1948 until he retired as Distinguished Professor Emeritus in 1990.

The Lorraine J. Hoffman Graduate Alumni Award is given to an individual who received a master's and/or PhD from the College of Veterinary Medicine. The award honors individuals who have demonstrated outstanding achievement or leadership in making significant, influential or innovative contributions to society. The Hoffman Graduate Alumni Award was created in 2019 to honor the contributions of Dr. Lorriane J. Hoffman who had over 35 years of experience as a diagnostic microbiologist at Iowa State and as director of the Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory where she was known for her love of serving practitioners and livestock and animal owners as well as mentoring students at all levels. Dr. Hoffman received her PhD in bacteriology at Iowa State In 1974.

The Outstanding Young Alumni Award recognizes College of Veterinary Medicine who have excelled in the veterinary profession and/or provided service to their community 10 years or less after their DVM graduation.

Selection Process:

The college's alumni and faculty awards committee manages the nomination process for both the Stange and Switzer Awards. Nominations are due by March 15 so that recipients can be selected by spring for recognition at Homecoming events in October. For more information about the process, contact Tracy Raef at traef@iastate.edu.

The form on the back of this page may be used to initiate a nomination for either award. Please attach the following information to this form:

1. Your summary or letter of nomination explaining why this person should be chosen for this award and the significant contributions that meet the award criteria.
2. Up to three letters of endorsement and/or additional supporting evidence.

Return this form and supporting materials by March 15
to: Awards Committee
ISU College of Veterinary Medicine
2524 Veterinary Administration
Ames, Iowa 50011-1250

Nomination Form

The College of Veterinary Medicine at Iowa State University recognizes those who have made a significant contribution to the profession and the college. To nominate candidates for awards, please see the criteria on the preceding page, and then provide the following information.

Award Sought: Stange Award William P. Switzer Award
 Lorraine J. Hoffman Graduate Alumni Award Outstanding Young Alumni Award

NOMINEE:

Name:

Home Address:

Home Phone:

Degree(s) Earned from ISU: DVM Degree Received:

Other Degrees and Years:

Non-ISU Degree(s) Earned:

Institution: Institution:

Degree: Degree:

Year: Year:

Position Title:

Business/Work Address:

Daytime Phone Number:

Membership and activities in professional, scientific and other organizations:*

Publications, if applicable:*

Honors, Awards and Recognitions:*

YOUR Name:

Address:

City: State: Zip Code:

Daytime Phone Number:

E-Mail Address:

Signature: Date:

*List separately if list is lengthy.

Rev. 2/11/2020